

CM038 Medical Research Privacy Notice – Polden Medical Practice

How your information is used for medical research and to measure the quality of care

Medical Research

Polden Medical Practice shares information from medical records:

- To support medical research when the law allows us to do so, for example, to learn more about why people get ill and what treatments might work best.
- We will also use your medical records to carry out research within the practice.

This is important because:

- The use of information from GP medical records is very useful in developing new treatments and medicines.
- Medical researchers use information from medical records to help answer important questions about illnesses and disease so that improvements can be made to the care and treatment patients receive.

We share information with the following medical research organisations when the law allows: NHS Digital and HQip.

You have the right to object to your identifiable information being used or shared for medical research purposes. Please speak to the practice if you wish to object to this data being shared.

Checking the quality of care - national clinical audits

Polden Medical Practice contributes to national clinical audits so that healthcare can be checked and reviewed.

- Information from medical records can help doctors and other healthcare workers measure and check the quality of care which is provided to you.
- The results of the checks or audits can show where hospitals are doing well and where they need to improve.
- The results of the checks or audits are used to recommend improvements to patient care.
- Data are sent to NHS Digital, a national body with legal responsibilities to collect data.
- The data will include information about you, such as your NHS Number and date of birth and information about your health which is recorded in coded form - for example the code for diabetes or high blood pressure.
- We will only share your information for national clinical audits or checking purposes when the law allows.
- For more information about national clinical audits see the Health Care Quality Improvements Partnership Website

You have the right to object to your identifiable information being shared for national clinical audits. Please contact the practice if you wish to object.

We are required by law to provide you with the following information about how we share your information for medical research purposes.

Information Section	Information and Details
Data Controller contact details	Polden Medical Practice
Data Protection Officer contact details	Should you have any questions or concerns about your data, please contact our Data Protection Officer Kevin Caldwell via the following: Email: somccg.GPDPO@nhs.net Telephone: 01935 384000
Purpose of the processing	Medical research and to check the quality of care which is given to patients (this is called national clinical audit).
Lawful basis for processing	The following sections of the GDPR mean that we can use medical records for research and to check the quality of care (national clinical audits) Article 6(1)(e) – ‘processing is necessary for the performance of a task carried out in the public interest or in the exercise of official authority vested in the controller’. Article 9(2)(j) – ‘processing is necessary for... scientific or historical research purposes or statistical purposes in accordance with Article 89(1) based on Union or Member States law which shall be proportionate to the aim pursued, respect the essence of the right to data protection and provide for suitable and specific measures to safeguard the fundamental rights and interests of the data subject’. To check the quality of care (clinical audit): Article 9(2)(h) – ‘processing is necessary for the purpose of preventative...medicine...the provision of health or social care or treatment or the management of health or social care systems and services...’
Recipient or categories of recipients of the processed data	For medical research the data will be shared with NHS Digital, HQuip For national clinical audits, which check the quality of care, the data will be shared with NHS Digital. Visit the NHS Digital Website
Right to access and correct	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> • You have the right to access your medical record and have any errors or mistakes corrected. Please speak to a member of staff or look at the practice Subject Access Request Policy • We are not aware of any circumstances in which you will have the right to delete correct information from your medical record; although you are free to obtain your own legal advice if you believe there is no lawful purpose for which we hold the information and contact us if you hold a different view.
Retention period	GP medical records will be kept in line with the law and national guidance. Information on how long records are kept can be found at: